

K-5 Reading Intervention has a website – go to www.rockwood.k12.mo.us click on “departments,” then “Curriculum and School Leadership (CSL)”. Scroll to the bottom of the page and you will see K-5 Reading Intervention. The following websites can be linked through the K-5 Reading Intervention website.

www.gigglepoetry.com – ideas for reading and writing poetry (intermediate grade levels)

<http://magma.nationalgeographic.com/ngexplorer> Grades 3-6 curriculum related science/social studies, games, interactive adventures like Lewis & Clark Expedition, reading and choosing how to handle dilemmas – good for 4th graders

<http://www.kidsdomain.com/holiday/summer> - seasonal summer activities including crafts for parents to do with their children www.storyplace.org – great site full of online stories and activities – check out the link to Book Beehive and create your own printable book www.starfall.com – free learn-to-read website for parents, teachers, and home schoolers; books and phonics lessons to read online and download free journals www.readingrockets.org – website for parents with lots of tips and activities to keep children reading all summer www.theschoolbell.com – 1st grade teacher created this site for primary students, caution – click on monthly activities and get a lot of pop up windows and links www.kidsreads.com – reviews books, categorizes books and word scrambles that go with books www.youngsaintlouis.com – local monthly news magazine for kids 8-13 in the St. Louis area, includes stories, features and information for and about kids www.bookadventure.com – free reading incentive program for children to take quizzes over books they have read, books are leveled according to reading difficulty, this is similar to Reading Counts and Accelerated Reader www.zianet.com/hrmp/sightwrd.htm - sight word activities and word games for children, includes character education books www.earobics.com/gamegoo/gooey.html - fun games that teach phonics, letter identification and early reading skills

Dial-A-Story

Introduce your child to a unique literacy activity that can be done at home. All you need is a phone! Dial 314-989-8415 and hear a 3-5 minute story presented by a storyteller. Stories are changed every Friday, so your child can enjoy a new story every week.