

Articles about Churches and Synagogues in the St. Louis Star-Times, St. Louis, Missouri

This guide was created by staff of the Special Collections Department. The microfilm for the St. Louis Star-Times newspaper is located on Tier 4 of St. Louis County Library Headquarters. The drawer list for Tier 4 will tell its specific location.

Background

In 1932, the St. Louis Star united with the St. Louis Times resulting in a new evening paper, the St. Louis Star-Times (initially known as the St. Louis Star and Times). This newspaper soon had the largest circulation of any paper in St. Louis.

One cause of the large circulation undoubtedly was the Star-Times publication of a wide variety of feature articles on subjects of local interest. These articles were often part of a larger series thereby keeping the reader's interest for several weeks, months, or even years. One such series of 171 articles between 24 October 1933 and 25 Nov 1935 told the history of various churches and synagogues in the St. Louis Area. These articles provide an insightful look into the religious life of our ancestors as well as information on the history of their congregations.

Content for Articles

The information in the articles came from the pastors, rabbis, and officers of the various institutions. Consequently several churches, such as the Old Cathedral, St. Patrick's and St. Teresa of Avila are conspicuous by their absence. On the other hand, a number of less well known churches and synagogues are included.

There are two extra articles indexed which are not officially in the series. Unfortunately, pages are missing from the microfilm for the following days, and those missing pages may have contained a pertinent article:

- Thursday, 23 February 1933
- Thursday, 2 March 1933
- Monday, 16 October 1933

Below is an alphabetized listing of the articles in the series on local churches and synagogues. Photocopies of these articles here are available from Special Collections.
