FOR THE RECORDS

When did they wear that?

Sources for researching fashion and clothing history

Researching historical fashion and clothing trends is helpful for various areas of historical and family history research. In addition to learning to date historical clothing from photographs, researchers can also learn about social and political issues throughout history. Studying historical clothing also provides important insight into the daily lives of our ancestors.

Articles written by experts take a few different approaches in helping researchers. Some articles useful for dating clothing found in family photographs take the form of a brief history of fashion trends. Detailed descriptions of clothing and style changes over time provide readers with a timeline of fashion history. A good example of a history, or timeline-style article is Linda Reiss Volin’s “Men’s and Women’s Fashions: Clues to Dating Photographs,” published in the Federation of Genealogical Societies journal, Forum in 2004. The article focuses on fashions between 1840 and 1920 and offers timeless information useful for any researcher looking for an overview of the clothing trends during this time-period.

Betty Kreisel Shubert’s article, “Be a Fashion Detective,” published in the January/February 2009 issue of Ancestry, and “Identifying 1840s Style: Women’s Wear,” published in the May/June 2009 issue are both examples of how useful periodicals and journals can be. Researchers can quickly look at Shubert’s article on women’s fashions of the 1840s to identify the clothing in a family photograph. Colorful illustrations are included to show the clothing and hairstyles common during the 1840s.

While matching the clothing in family photos with photographs and illustrations in various articles and books is helpful, it is important to remember that photographs are often misleading. As Colleen Fitzpatrick states in, “Say Cheese,” “while clothing styles have changed rapidly, with countless variations in fabric, design, and ornamentation, major and minor changes in style took time to become available and accepted in different areas of the country.” It is possible that the clothing pictured in a photograph is not from the same year the photo was actually taken. In addition, portrait... between 1860 and 1875, shows her a black alpaca dress, a style popular in the 1860s. For comparison, another photographic example is included in Joan Severa’s book, Dressed for the Photographer: Ordinary Americans & Fashion, 1840-1900. A photograph on page 254 (Fig. 2, below) taken between 1864 and 1867 shows a young woman dressed for her school graduation and wearing a dress in a style similar to Jacobi’s. Other style elements of the 1860s shown in these photographs are a full skirt gathered by a series of pleats into a short waist. Belts were also common accessories in the 1860s, as they enhanced the full skirts and short waistlines of the one-piece dresses. Small, white collars made of lace were also popular. Comparing and contrasting these photographs helps researchers to crosscheck the styles found in different photographs for accuracy and authenticity.

Some authors take a biographical approach and analyze the clothing and style of specific people throughout history. Pattie Ellicott describes the fashion and style of specific women during the Revolutionary era of United States history in her article entitled, “Early American Fashions.” Women included in her article are Dolly Madison, Martha Washington, and Nelly Custis. While describing the women’s preferred fashions, Ellicott also includes portraits to illustrate better the women’s clothing styles.

Another research method is studying fashion catalogs and historical periodicals. Fashion catalogs help researchers discover the style popular during a particular year. For example, the popular fashion trends in New York during the year 1909 are featured in Women’s Fashions of the Early 1900s. The book includes catalog entries from the National Cloak & Suit Co. From hats to dresses and skirts, readers can learn about the styles and cost of various clothing items in 1909. A selection of fashion catalogs available in the History & Genealogy Department is included in the bibliography at the end of this article.

The library has recently acquired American Antiquarian Society (AAS) Historical Periodicals Collection, a database providing access to many American periodicals published between 1684 and 1912. The resource includes a selection of women’s periodicals covering the years 1733–1865.
Magazine articles offer a primary source featuring letters to women with instructions for updating their fall, winter, spring, and summer wardrobes. Illustrations are also often included with the instructions in the ladies fashion magazines. Some of the titles included are Lady’s Monthly Museum, Lady’s Magazine, and Ladies’ Literary Gazette. AAS Historical Periodicals Collection includes full-text, digitized images of the periodicals. The database is available at all St. Louis County Library locations and can be accessed at home by St. Louis area residents with a valid St. Louis County Library card.

Photographs featuring military uniforms also offer interesting details about ancestors, and some researchers may be fortunate enough to have ancestral uniforms in their personal collections. Uniforms provide clues, such as where an ancestor served and when. Their military rank and other details can also help you when requesting military service records from the National Archives.

The History and Genealogy collection offers books and periodicals that are relevant for researchers studying uniforms from various eras. Researchers are not limited to American military uniforms. The collection also includes reference materials for those researching German and English uniforms and medals from World War I and World War II.

With the increasing number of digitization projects undertaken by various archives, it is becoming easier to find digital collections of uniforms and other clothing items online. For example, the sketches of uniform regulation changes for the United States Navy Reserve from World War I in Fig. 3–4 are viewable on the Naval History and Heritage Command’s Flickr account <https://bit.ly/2Enul6Z>.

Researching clothing and fashion trends helps historians better understand society and politics of a particular time and place. For example, Kate Haulman’s article, “Fashion and the Culture Wars of Revolutionary Philadelphia,” thoroughly describes and explains the way that people expressed political views through fashion choices. Haulman not only explores popular fashions in Philadelphia during the Revolutionary War, but also enlightens readers on the ways people tried to influence political opinion through fashion. Loyalist fashions, such as the high-roll hairstyle, were very different from the plain hairstyles and subdued homespun clothing often associated with the Whigs.4

Whether you are researching fashion history to get a glimpse into the daily lives of your ancestors or seeking historical information for writing your family history, many resources are available to help you. The library catalog <webpac.slcl.org> is a great pathway to discovering available print resources. Some suggested keywords to use are “fashion history” and “costume history.” Also, take advantage of electronic databases. If you are uncertain about how to use online resources, the History and Genealogy Department offers free classes to help you get started (see page 7). Staff members are also available to help you in person, online, and over the phone.
Notes

Bibliography

Articles

OF NOTE

Shifting project will make materials easier to find—“Explore Tier 4” suspended until May

History & Genealogy at St. Louis County Library is currently undertaking a shifting project that will move whole subject areas between Tiers (floors) 4 and 5. The project will reorder and consolidate the collection so that books are easier to browse and find.

Because of the disruption, “Explore Tier 4” weekends (the second weekend of each month when the area is normally open to the public) will be cancelled during March and April. Tier 4 will reopen to the public during the week of May 8 when the National Genealogical Society Conference meets in St. Charles.

The entire collection remains available for use. H&G staff members will gladly retrieve materials from Tier 4 upon request and will assist researchers in locating materials during the shifting process.

Books
Catalogs:

Perry, Dame & Co. Women’s and Children’s Fashions of 1917: The Complete Perry, Dame & Co.
R 391.3 W872

Clothing-General
R 391.1 H645A

R 391.0097 S498D and circulating copy

Clothing, Social History
R 392.5 J48I

R 391.10973 Z21R

Clothing-Uniforms
R 355.14 D389U

R 355.14 L274U

R 355.14 M169M and circulating copy

R 355.14 N277U

Civil War
R 355.1 H426U

World War I
R 355.14 N865I

World War II

Thursday, March 14, 6:30 p.m.

IRISH HERITAGE

Learn about the rich history of Irish heritage and culture in St. Louis from Gabrielle Woeltje with the Irish Special Interest Group of the St. Louis Genealogical Society. Enjoy a traditional Irish dance performance by The Clarkson School of Irish Dance.

Adults. Registration requested. Call 314-994-3300.

Saint Louis County Parks

Grant’s View Branch
9700 Musick Road | St. Louis, MO 63123 | 314-994-3300

Program sites are accessible. Upon two weeks’ notice, accommodations will be made for persons with disabilities. Call 314-994-3300 or visit www.slc.l.org.
NEW BOOK HIGHLIGHTS

HEINZ KLOSS

Atlas der im 19. [i.e. neunzehnten] und frühen 20. Jh. entstandenen deutschen Siedlungen in USA / Atlas of 19th and Early 20th Century German-American Settlements
Marburg: Elwert, 1975
R 973.0431 K66A

This oversized atlas provides graphic presentations of the occurrences of German-speaking settlement in the United States by state and county. After illustrating overall German immigrant settlement to 1910, further maps break down immigration data into subsets, including Germans from Russia, Germans immigrating from outside the German Empire, secular clubs (such as Turnvereine) and the occurrence of German-speaking churches by denomination. Maps are based on U.S. Federal Census data and information reported by organizations and religious denominations. The introduction provides background information and a thorough explanation of the maps and their symbols. The text is in German with a parallel English translation.—H&G staff

JACK P. GREENE, ROSEMARY BRANA-SHUTE, AND RANDY J. SPARKS, EDs.

Money, Trade, and Power: The Evolution of Colonial South Carolina's Plantation Society
University of South Carolina Press, 2001
R 975.7 M742

Reflecting the burgeoning interest of colonial historians in South Carolina and its role as the economic and cultural center of the Lower South, Money, Trade, and Power is a comprehensive exploration of the colony's slave system, economy, and complex social and cultural life.

The first six chapters of this essay collection focus on the formative decades of South Carolina's history, from 1670 through the 1730s. Contributors Meaghan N. Duff, Bertrand Van Ruymbeke, and Gary L. Hewitt explore the colony's early settlement. R. C. Nash, Stephen G. Hardy, and Eirlys M. Barker investigate the rapidly expanding economy.

Turning to the colony's reliance on slave labor, William L. Ramsay analyzes the institution and abandonment of Indian slavery; Jennifer Lyle Morgan examines the reproductive capabilities of slave women; and S. Max Edelson looks at the distinctive social position of skilled slaves. Robert Olwell considers how South Carolina public officials adapted the office of justice of the peace to the needs of a slave society, while Matthew Mulcahy shows how calamities of fires and hurricanes exacerbated the problem of slave control.

Finally, Edward Pearson describes the ways in which South Carolina's emerging elite asserted their new status; G. Winston Lane and Elizabeth M. Pruden review the surprising economic independence of women; and Thomas Little examines the colony's religious life and spread of evangelicalism.—Publisher

View a complete list of new books online

A list of new books received during the previous month is posted on the library's website. View the list online. For more information about viewing the new book list online, exporting records, and saving items to a customized list, call (314) 994-3300 or ask a librarian when visiting any St. Louis County Library branch.
Standing as a proud testament to Charleston's religious tolerance, churches and synagogues scattered throughout the historic port have defined Charleston's landscape since its founding. Built by Anglicans, Huguenots, Presbyterians, Congregationalists, Quakers, Baptists, Lutheans, Jews, Catholics, African Methodist Episcopalians, and almost every other denomination found on American shores, Charleston's sacred structures are considered the finest collection of antebellum religious architecture in the country. In a grand photographic tour, The Churches of Charleston and the Lowcountry captures the drama, history, and architectural significance of the buildings that continue to draw architects, historians, architectural enthusiasts, and tourists to the city for study, reflection, and inspiration. From St. Michael's, a Charleston landmark, to such lesser known but equally impressive houses of worship as the Unitarian Church and St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, the sixty structures spotlighted in this volume offer glimpses into the religious, social, and economic development of Charleston and into the architectural fashions of colonial, federal, and antebellum America.

—Publisher

Briefly noted

African American

Coming Through: Voices of a South Carolina Gullah Community from WPA Oral Histories. R 975.7 C733

Notes from a Colored Girl: The Civil War Pocket Diaries of Emilie Frances Davis. R 973.781 W592N

Architecture and monuments

Historic Houses of Early America. R 973 L353H

---

PastPorts is published by History & Genealogy at St. Louis County Library, located on Tier 5 of Library Headquarters.

Current and past issues can be downloaded from the web <http://www.slcl.org/pastports>.

Contact us:

History & Genealogy
St. Louis County Library
1640 S. Lindbergh Blvd
St. Louis, MO 63131

Phone: 314-994-3300, ext. 2070
Email: genealogy@slcl.org
Website: http://www.slcl.org

Tours

Tours are conducted on Wednesdays and Saturdays at 10:30 a.m. Group tours of 10 or more are gladly arranged with advance notice by calling 314-994-3300, ext. 2070.
Biography
Colonel Henry Theodore Titus: Antebellum Soldier of Fortune and Florida Pioneer. RB Titus Henry
Florida Founder William P. Duval: Frontier Bon Vivant. R 975.9 D393F
The Life and Letters of Benjamin Franklin. RB Franklin Benjamin
Patrick N. Lynch, 1817-1882: Third Catholic Bishop of Charleston. RB Lynch Patrick

Canada
The Correspondence of Lieut. Governor John Graves Simcoe: with Allied Documents Relating to His Administration of the Government of Upper Canada. R 971.3 C824
Gravestones of Glengarry. R 971.375 F841G
History of Compton County and Sketches of the Eastern Townships, District of St. Francis, and Sherbrooke County. R 971.468 C458H
Westminster Township, South-East of the Thames: One Hundred Years of Yesterday's News, Today's History. R 971.325 W532

England
Abstracts of Wiltshire Inclosure Awards and Agreements. R 942.31 S214A
Calendar of Antrobus Deeds Before 1625. R 942.31 P978C
The Monumental Brasses of Wiltshire: A Series of Examples of These Memorials, Ranging from the Thirteenth to the Seventeenth Centuries, Accompanied with Notices Descriptive of Ancient Costume, and Generally Illustrative of the History of the Country during this Period. R 942.31 K62M
The Records of the Guild of the Holy Trinity, St. Mary, St. John the Baptist and St. Katherine of Coventry. Vol. 2. R 942.48 R311

Maps
Historical Atlas of the 19th Century World, 1783-1914. R 911 H427H

History & Genealogy
Open House for Educators
Learn about all of the wonderful resources available for educators in the History & Genealogy Department. A Q&A session will follow the presentation.
Saturday, March 2, 10:00 a.m., Headquarters
No registration required

Military
Civil War
A City Laid Waste: The Capture, Sack, and Destruction of the City of Columbia. R 973.738 S592C
Into the Crater: The Mine Attack at Petersburg. R 973.737 H586I
Never for Want of Powder: The Confederate Powder Works in Augusta, Georgia. R 973.71 N513

Biography
Captain James Carlin: Anglo-American Blockade-Runner. R 973.7092 C282C
Promotion or the Bottom of the River: The Blue and Gray Naval Careers of Alexander F. Warley, South Carolinian. R 973.757 S854P
Wade Hampton III. RB Hampton Wade

Primary sources
Days of Destruction: Augustine Thomas Smythe and the Civil War Siege of Charleston. R 973.782 S668D
Faith, Valor, and Devotion: The Civil War Letters of William Porcher Dubose. R 973.782 D817F
High Seas and Yankee Gunboats: A Blockade-Running Adventure from the Diary of James Dickson. R 973.75 D961H
Shelf life

In 1663, the 80,000 people settled in English colonies along the east coast of North America dwarfed Quebec's European population of about 2,500. A significant contributing cause of this difference was that French men greatly outnumbered the population of marriageable women in Quebec. While some colonists married native women, which had a beneficial side effect of fostering alliances, the situation discouraged soldiers, tradesmen, and others from permanently settling.

Between 1663 and 1673, Louis XIV, King of France, sponsored nearly 800 young women by providing passage to Quebec, a dowry, various clothing items, and other practical goods. These women came to be called the Filles du Roi, or King's Daughters. Often orphaned or poor, the women were recruited primarily from northern cities such as Paris. In King's Daughters and Founding Mothers: The Filles du Roi, 1663–1673 (R 971.4 G197K), Peter J. Gagné provides substantial information about each woman as well as details about the program's history, outcome, and the women's experience of it.

Because women did not pass surnames down to their children, researchers will not know which Filles du Roi are their ancestors until tracing lines back through church records to late 1600s. Typical entries include the names of the woman's parents, place and time of birth, situation before leaving France, and stories of the lives and families they made in Quebec.

Ironclads and Big Guns of the Confederacy: The Journal and Letters of John M. Brooke. R 973.757 B872I
South Carolina Fire-Eater: The Life of Laurence Massillon Keitt, 1824–1864. R 973.782 M554S
A Yankee Scholar in Coastal South Carolina: William Francis Allen's Civil War Journals. R 973.781 A432Y

French and Indian War

Revolutionary War
A Bibliography of Loyalist Source Material in the United States, Canada, and Great Britain. R 973.314 B582
Concord Fight, April 19th, 1775: The First Shot. R 973.3311 H885C
Crescent Moon Over Carolina: William Moultrie and...
Celebrate Women’s History Month at St. Louis County Library

Explore Women’s History
Learn how to use library resources to find biographies, speeches and historic events related to women. Adults and teens. Registration required.

- March 5 2:00 p.m. Florissant Valley | Register
- March 7 2:00 p.m. Oak Bend | Register
- March 8 2:00 p.m. Grant’s View | Register
- March 9 2:00 p.m. Natural Bridge | Register
- March 25 10:00 a.m. Headquarters | Register

More Women’s History Month events
See the complete lineup of St. Louis County Library Women’s History Month events online <https://bit.ly/2Vs1Ta0>

Women’s History & Genealogy subject guide
Download the “Women’s History and Genealogy” guide to the History & Genealogy Department <https://bit.ly/2GRM8px>

---

Memphis Belle: Biography of a B-17 Flying Fortress.
R 940.5449 P448M

On the Highways of the Skies: The 8th Air Force in World War II.
R 940.5449 B787O

Protect & Avenge: The 49th Fighter Group in World War II.
R 940.5449 F353P

Ridgewell’s Flying Fortresses: The 381st Bombardment Group (H) in World War II.
R 940.5449 M153R

Squadron of Deception: The 36th Bomb Squadron in World War II.
R 940.5449 H985S

Victory Roll: The American Fighter Pilot and Aircraft in World War II.
R 940.5449 W855V

Warpath: The Story of the 345th Bombardment Group in World War II.
R 940.5449 W285

Wrong Place! Wrong Time!
R 940.5449 K96W

---

Religion

Challenges on the Emmaus Road: Episcopal Bishops Confront Slavery, Civil War, and Emancipation.
R 973.71 D713C

---

States

Indiana

Pike County, Indiana Marriage Index. R 977.236 P355P

Pike County, Indiana: Pictorial History. R 977.236 P635

Massachusetts

A History of the Second Church, or Old North, in Boston: To Which Is Added a History of the New Brick Church. R 974.461 R632H

Bulfinch’s Boston, 1787-1817. R 974.461 K59B

Early Northampton. R 974.423 M414E

John Pory’s Lost Description of Plymouth Colony in the Earliest Days of the Pilgrim Fathers…. R 974.482 P853J

Lynn and Surroundings. R 974.45 H682L

The Story of the Old Colony of New Plymouth, 1620-1692. R 974.482 M861S

Vital Records of Marblehead, Massachusetts, to the End of the Year 1849. R 974.45 V836

Year-Book of the Society of Colonial Wars in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts: Constitution and By-Laws, Addresses and Original Papers, List of Members, Etc. R 974.4 S678Y

Pennsylvania

Carlisle, Old and New. R 974.843 C582C

Cumberland County, Pennsylvania in the Civil War, 1861-1865: With Historical Sketches. 973.7448 H489C

Tales of Tioga, Pennsylvania, and Its People. R 974.856 Y75T

South Carolina

The Best Gun in the World: George Woodward Morse and the South Carolina State Military Works. R 975.7 S459B

Carnival of Blood: Dueling, Lynching, and Murder in South Carolina, 1880-1920. R 975.7 M822C

The History of Beaufort County, South Carolina. R 975.799 R883H

---

New England

The Journal and Major Essays of John Woolman. R 289.6 W914J
Get complete digital access to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch through library databases

  Coverage for 1874–1922. Searchable; includes page images.

- ProQuest Historical St. Louis Post-Dispatch Database <https://bit.ly/2q66ic>
  Coverage for 1874–2003. Searchable; includes page images.

- Newbank St. Louis Post-Dispatch Database <https://bit.ly/2T813v>

- ProQuest Digital Microfilm <https://bit.ly/2NDeMvc>
  Coverage for 2008 to three months before current date. Searchable; includes page images.

  Includes obituaries from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, 1988–current. Searchable; text only.

Newspaper databases can be used at home by St. Louis metropolitan-area residents with a valid St. Louis County Library card.

The Huguenot Connection: The Edict of Nantes, Its Revocation, and Early French Migration to South Carolina.
R 975.7 H897

The Journal of Peter Horry, South Carolinian: Recording the New Republic, 1812-1814.
R 975.7 H816J

Money, Trade, and Power: The Evolution of Colonial South Carolina's Plantation Society.
975.7 M742

A Portion of the People: Three Hundred Years of Southern Jewish Life.
R 975.7 P852

The South Carolina Diary of Reverend Archibald Simpson.
R 975.7 S613S

Twilight on the South Carolina Rice Fields: Letters of the Heyward Family, 1862-1871.
R 975.7 H622T

Charleston County

- City of the Silent: The Charlestonians of Magnolia Cemetery.
  R 975.7915 P563C

- The Churches of Charleston and the Lowcountry.
  R 975.7915 C562

- Patroons & Periaguas: Enslaved Watermen and Watercraft of the Lowcountry.
  R 975.791 H314P

- The Travelers' Charleston: Accounts of Charleston and Lowcountry South Carolina, 1666-1861.
  R 975.7915 T779

Virginia

- A History of Colonial Virginia: The First Permanent Colony in America, to Which Is Added the Genealogy of the Several Shires and Counties and Population in Virginia from the First Spanish Colony to the Present Time.
  R 975.5 C928H

- Loudoun County, Virginia, Marriage Records to 1891.
  R 975.528 J59L

Other northern titles

- Bi-Centennial History of Gorham, Maine, 1736-1936: An Account of the Anniversary Celebration of the Town.
  R 974.191 B583

- Historical Sketch of Amherst, New Hampshire.
  R 974.28 F233H

- History of Saint Andrew's Society of the State of New York, 1756-1906.
  R 974.7 M879H

- The New England States: Their Constitutional, Judicial, Educational, Commercial, Professional and Industrial History.
  R 974 D265N

Other Midwestern titles

- Faithful unto Death: The James-Younger Raid on the First National Bank, Northfield, Minnesota, September 7, 1876.
  R 977.6555 K75F

- History of Trempealeau County, Wisconsin.
  R 977.549 C978H

Other southern titles

- Florida's First Families: Translated Abstracts of Pre-1821 Spanish Censuses.
  R 975.9 M657F

- The Mobile River.
  R 976.122 S632M
Women’s history
All-Girls Education from Ward Seminary to Harpeth Hall, 1865-2015. R 976.855 P486A
Journal of a Lady of Quality: Being the Narrative of a Journey from Scotland to the West Indies, North Carolina, and Portugal, in the Years 1774 to 1776. R 910.4 S313J

Journal highlights
CLASSES & PROGRAMS

CLASSES
Classes are free and open to the public, but registration is required. Register online at www.slcl.org or call 314-994-3300. Before registering for classes, you should already know how to use a computer and search the Internet. A prerequisite is noted for some classes.

CLASSES FOR BEGINNING RESEARCHERS

Who Were My Ancestors? Beginning Genealogical Research
If you have little or no research experience, this is the class for you. Learn about the genealogical research process and the many resources available in History & Genealogy at St. Louis County Library.

- March 19 2:00 p.m. Grand Glaize | Register
- April 8 2:00 p.m. Headquarters | Register

Library Skills for Genealogical Research
Libraries offer essential tools for researching your ancestry. Learn how to search online library catalogs, obtain materials from distant libraries, locate periodical articles, and use the library’s in-house guides. Pre-requisite: “Who Were My Ancestors?” or previous research experience.

- March 4 2:00 p.m. Headquarters | Register
- April 17 2:00 p.m. Headquarters | Register
- April 30 2:00 p.m. Daniel Boone | Register

Finding Ancestors in U.S. Census Records
Census records are a basic and essential source for genealogical research in the U.S. Learn how to search census records effectively using Ancestry Library Edition and other electronic databases.

- March 14 2:00 p.m. Headquarters | Register
- April 2 2:00 p.m. Daniel Boone | Register
- April 9 10:00 a.m. Cliff Cave | Register

CLASSES TO EXPAND RESEARCH SKILLS

Researching Newspaper Databases
Newspapers are excellent sources of historical and genealogical information, and digitization has made them more widely available. The class will cover 19th-Century U.S. Newspapers, NewspaperArchive, Newspapers.com and St. Louis Post-Dispatch databases.

- April 4 2:00 p.m. Headquarters | Register
- April 16 2:00 p.m. Florissant Valley | Register

Finding Immigrant European Ancestors
Discover print and online resources for researching immigrant ancestors. This class will include an overview of information available on Ancestry Library Edition and other electronic databases. Prerequisite: Finding Ancestors in U.S. Census Records class or comparable research experience.

- March 12 10:00 a.m. Cliff Cave | Register
- March 20 2:00 p.m. Headquarters | Register

Identifying Ancestral Military Veterans
Explore strategies for military research in the Fold3 and Ancestry Library Edition databases, as well as in print and online sources. Prerequisite: “Finding Ancestors in U.S. Census Records” or comparable research experience.

- March 5 2:00 p.m. Daniel Boone | Register
- March 26 10:00 a.m. Weber Road | Register
- March 27 2:00 p.m. Headquarters | Register

SPECIAL TOPICS AND SOURCES

Introduction to the FamilySearch Website
FamilySearch.org is a free website that offers millions of records for genealogical research. Learn about available records and get tips for searching them.

- March 19 6:30 p.m. Grants View | Register
Programs are free and open to the public. No registration is required.

Wednesday, March 6, 6:30 p.m. | Cliff Cave

Genealogy: World War I Veterans of St. Louis

Many St. Louisans, including local businesses and institutions, played a significant role in World War I. Learn some of their stories and how they are connected to Bellefontaine Cemetery. Dan Fuller, speaker.

Saturday, March 9, 10:00 a.m. | Headquarters

English Church Records

St. Louis Genealogical Society General Membership Meeting

Explore church and civil records related to Catholics and Protestants, and learn key terminology for identifying the denominational affiliation of your English ancestors. Jake Eubanks, speaker.

Wednesday, March 20, 7:00 p.m. | Headquarters

Finding Your German Ancestor in Emigration and Immigration Lists

StLGS German Special Interest Groups

Emigration and immigration lists might reveal the ancestral hometown of your family. Learn how to research in these seldom-used resources. Dan Lilienkamp, speaker.

Wednesday, April 3, 6:30 p.m. | Cliff Cave

Genealogy: Finding Your Ancestors at the Missouri History Museum Library & Research Center

Discover more about your St. Louis ancestors using genealogy resources curated by the Missouri Historical Society. Dennis Northcott, speaker.

Saturday, April 13, 10:00 a.m. | Headquarters

Help Your Documents & Photographs Last Longer: Archival Advice

St. Louis Genealogical Society General Membership Meeting

Learn how to preserve original documents and photographs so they will last another century or more. Topics will include handling, housing and storage, and environmental conditions. Diane Everman, speaker.

Tuesday, April 23, 7:00 p.m. | Headquarters

Irish Emigration: Post Famine to Early 1900s

StLGS Irish Special Interest Group

The speaker will discuss immigration during the post famine years to the early 1900s, the period of greatest exodus from Ireland. Gabrielle Woeltje, speaker.