

OF NOTE

Historical St. Louis Post-Dispatch expands coverage

ProQuest has added content to the Historical Post-Dispatch Newspaper Database <<http://bit.ly/2qx6ic0>> to extend coverage of the newspaper through 1968. Coverage will expand through 2003 as digitization progresses. The database is searchable and provides images of newspaper pages. Researchers can access the database for free at any St. Louis County Library location. Residents in the metropolitan St. Louis area can also use it at home with a valid St. Louis County Library card.

FOR THE RECORDS

Researching historic homes

Researching a house's history in the St. Louis area involves investigating the building and its inhabitants in a variety of sources. The History & Genealogy Department has many to help you in the various stages of the research process. In addition to sources for St. Louis area property research, the History & Genealogy Department also has print sources for other locations.

Deed Records

Locating deed records is an important step in the research process that helps researchers to create a property timeline. Deeds are formal written agreements through which the title of a piece of property is transferred from one owner to the next. Important information to note when compiling deed records for a property timeline includes the date of transaction, the grantor (seller) and grantee (buyer), the purchase price, and a legal description of the property. When copying the legal description from the deed record, make sure to write down the number of acres to help identify the property. The following St. Louis City and County deed records are available on microfilm in the History & Genealogy Department. Note that city and county records are combined until 1876, when St. Louis became an independent city and the county began keeping records separately.

A deed record, like this one above, is a basic document for house history research.

St. Louis City and County deed records to 1876 and St. Louis City after 1876

- Collet's Index [Deeds] (St. Louis Co., Mo.), Grantors and Grantees, 1804–1854
- Index to French and Spanish Archives, 1771–1803
- Land Commissioner's Minutes, 1st and 2nd Boards
- O.W. Collet's General Index to St. Louis County Archives [French & Spanish records]
- St. Louis Deed Records [pre-1804, French, and Spanish], vols. 1–6

CONTINUED ON PAGE 3

History & Genealogy invites you to:

EXPLORE TIER 4

[OPEN May 13-14]

Browse 13,000+ family histories, school yearbooks, materials for states
west of the Mississippi and more.

NOW OPEN THE SECOND WEEKEND OF EACH MONTH.

- St. Louis Deed Records [pre-1804, French, Spanish, English] (translated), vols. 1-6
- St. Louis Deed Records: Deed Indexes, Direct (1804-1900) and Inverted (1804-1891)
- St. Louis Deed Records: Deeds, Vols. A-Z6 (1804-1854) and Vols. 151-425 (1854-1871)
- Record of Deeds for Lots Sold in Commons Under Ordinances, 1843, City of St. Louis
- Record of Deeds to City of St. Louis, 1830-1888, [land deeded to the City of St. Louis only]
- St. Louis County deed records after 1876
- St. Louis County Deeds, Books 1-1128, 1877-1930
- St. Louis County Direct and Inverted Indexes to Deeds, 1877-1930, 1974-1992.

Land grants

Many Missouri properties are interesting to research, because they originated under French or Spanish rule. Those researching land and properties that date back to the time of French and Spanish Land Grants should consult The Record of Land Titles in Missouri: French & Spanish Land Grants, 1804-1829 microfilm collection. The following list includes other records for land research in Missouri available on microfilm in the History & Genealogy Department:

- Missouri Field Notes & Plat Indexes
- Missouri Field Notes, Private Surveys, Vols. 1-71
- Missouri Individual Private Surveys, Nos. 1-3344
- Missouri Plat Surveys, Vols. 1-49
- Missouri Record of Private Surveys, Vols. 1-20
- Record of Land Titles in Missouri: Private Land Claims, 1804-1867
- Recorder Hunt's Minutes, 1825-

Maps

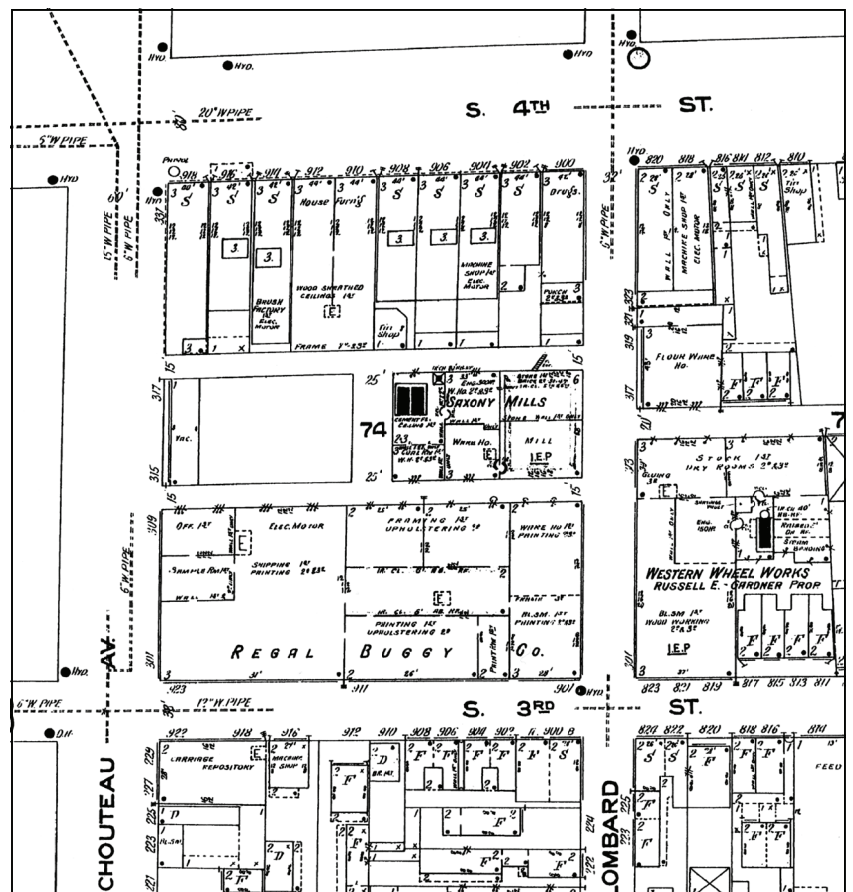

Plat and land ownership maps are important resources to consider when researching historic properties. The History & Genealogy Department has the 1905 Plat Book of St. Louis County and the 1909 Plat Book for St. Louis City in print format, and the 1909 St. Louis County Plat Book on CD-ROM. Plat maps show the plan of an area, including political boundaries. This allows researchers to see how a town was laid out, and such maps even show existing structures and plans for new streets. Plat maps also list land owners for a specific plat of land at the time the map was published. In addition to plat maps, St. Louis County Library also offers History Geo, an electronic database featuring land ownership maps by state and county. The source includes an interactive First Landowners digital map function, which is useful for researching original land owners. History Geo can be accessed at any St. Louis County Library location.

Fire insurance maps, such as those produced by the Sanborn Map Company between 1867 and 1977, are also useful for researching original property configurations and architectural details. Originally created to assess fire insurance liability, the maps describe many building features, such as the building footprint and construction materials, and the locations of doors, windows, water and gas mains, sidewalks, streets, and outbuildings. Sanborn maps for towns and cities in Below: Detail of a fire insurance map showing the intersection of 4th St. and Chouteau Ave. Markings are explained in the key located at the beginning of each volume.

Source: Sanborn Fire Insurance Map, Saint Louis, 1903-1916, Vol. 1, Sheet 74.

Missouri and Illinois can be browsed in the Digital Sanborn Maps, 1867–1970 electronic database. Library card holders can use the database at home, as well as at any St. Louis County Library branch. More information about this source is in the books, Fire Insurance Maps: Their History and Applications (R 368.11 O86F) and Fire Insurance Maps in the Library of Congress: Plans of North American Cities and Towns Produced by the Sanborn Map Company (Q 016.91273 L697F).

The History & Genealogy Department has ward maps for the St. Louis City, and a variety of other maps and atlases for the St. Louis area. A guide is available on the St. Louis County Library website <<http://bit.ly/2p1ZSAH>>. Maps and atlases for other locations are often available. Check the library's online catalog <<http://webpac.slcl.org>> for holdings.

The following maps and atlases in the History & Genealogy Collection are particularly useful for researching St. Louis County homes and historic structures.

Hutawa's Map of the City of St. Louis, 1852. Map Collection

Atlas of St. Louis, Hutawa, 1857. CD-ROM

Atlas of St. Louis County, Hutawa, 1871–1872.

Microfilm

Pictorial St. Louis, the Great Metropolis of the Mississippi Valley: A Topographical Survey Drawn in Perspective, A.D. 1875. R 977.866 D798P and circulating copy

Pitzman's Atlas of St. Louis City & County, 1878. 977.8 P692A

Handy Atlas & Directory of St. Louis & Suburbs, 1952. R 977.865 H236

The History & Genealogy Department has maps and atlases of all kinds for many other states, counties, and cities. Search the library's online catalog <<http://webpac.slcl.org>> for available holdings.

Books for researching architecture and local history

When identifying house styles and architectural trends, house style and design books are useful resources for determining time periods, architects, unique features, and identifying possible changes in design and construction. Along with general guides on researching historic houses, the History & Genealogy Department also has books on historical architecture and design. Researchers will find photographs of historic homes and structures, in addition to useful information on historical architecture (see bibliography beginning on page 6).

Local histories can provide specific details about architecture and historic buildings in specific communities. They often include photographs of homes, biographical information local prominent citizens, and other historical information about a specific town. A bibliography of local history books in the library collection is available in the History & Genealogy Department. Reference Desk. Books are grouped by locality. Check the table of contents to find a pictorial, architectural, house, or landmark history for the community of interest. Personal name indexes for many local St. Louis City and County histories are available on the library's website <<http://bit.ly/2p4ITP0>>.

Newspapers

For researchers investigating home owners or inhabitants, local newspapers can provide great details and key pieces of information. Obituaries for home owners, for example, can help researchers confirm when a piece of property was transferred to a new owner and help ascertain when specific people inhabited the home. Searching local newspapers for time period in which a house was first constructed also gives good insight into the lives of home owners and a house's inhabitants. The library has complete runs of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, 1874–present and the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, 1875–1986, plus earlier St. Louis daily newspapers on microfilm. A list of the department's newspaper microfilm holdings is available on the library's website <<http://bit.ly/2pkMEIL>>.

In addition to microfilm, St. Louis County Library has searchable newspaper databases that can be used at any library branch or from home with a valid library card. Databases for St. Louis newspapers include the Historical St. Louis Post-Dispatch, 1874–2003. The ProQuest U.S. Newstand Database offers coverage of the St. Louis Post Dispatch, 1988–present (full text beginning 1996). The ProQuest Digital Microfilm database offers non-searchable images of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch from 2008 to present. Indexes for several St. Louis local community newspapers are posted on the library's website <<http://bit.ly/2pxRcpm>>. For newspapers outside of the St. Louis area, consult the NewspaperARCHIVE, and Nineteenth Century U.S. Newspapers databases.

City directories

City directories include useful information for identifying a home's inhabitants in a specific period of time. St. Louis City Directories in the History & Genealogy collection include those for the years 1821–1860 and 1860–1980, and the St. Louis County Directories from 1893–1979. Looking in the reverse directory for an address can help researchers determine who was living in a house during a particular year. The reverse directory first appeared in the back of the 1922 city directory. Directories for St. Louis, 1863–1923 and those for other cities are available on the Fold3 database. The keyword search function in Fold3 allows users to search for a name or address within a directory year.

Legal and vital records

Records commonly used in genealogical research can help develop a better understanding of home owners. Vital records, probate and other court records, and church records for St. Louis City and County on microfilm are available in the History & Genealogy Department for researchers to view and copy. "Online Guide to St. Louis Sources in the History & Genealogy Department" <<http://bit.ly/2oYHGso>> provides an overview of available records. Records are often available for other communities. Check the library's online catalog <<http://webpac.slcl.org>>.

Bibliography

Research guides

- Green, Betsy J. Discovering the History of Your House and Your Neighborhood. Santa Monica, CA: Santa Monica Press, 2002. R 907.2 G795D
- Howe, Barbara J. Houses and Homes: Exploring Their History. Nashville, Tenn.: American Association for State and Local History, 1987. R 307.336 H842
- Hugh, Howard. How Old is This House? A Skeleton Key to Dating, Identifying, and Understanding Three Centuries of the American House. New York: Farrar, Straus, and Giroux, 1989. R 728.028 H849H
- Light, Sarah. House Histories: A Guide to Tracing Genealogy of Your Home. Spencertown, N.Y.: Golden Hill, 2004. 728.028 L723H
- Zehr, Alison. Your House Has a History: A Step-by-Step Guide to Researching Your Property. Chicago, IL: City of Chicago, Dept. of Planning and Development, 1998. R 977.31 Z44Y

St. Louis City & County architecture

- Amsler, Kevin. The Architecture of Maritz & Young: Exceptional Historic Homes of St. Louis. St. Louis, Mo.: Missouri History Museum, 2013. R 728.092 A528A
- Coyle, Elinor Martineau. Old Saint Louis Homes, 1764–1865: The Stories They Tell. Saint Louis: Folkstone Press, 1979. R 728.9778 C881O
- Kimmey, James R. House History in St. Louis: A Guide to Research on Real Estate and Building History. St. Louis: J. Kimmey, 1991. R 977.866 K49H
- Savage, Charles C. Architecture of the Private Streets of St. Louis: the Architects and the Houses They Designed. Columbia, University of Missouri Press, 1987. R 728.37 S263A

Sharoff, Robert. American City: St. Louis Architecture: Three Centuries of Classic Design.

Mulgrave, Vic.: The Images Publishing Group, 2010. R 720.9778 S531A

Wolterman, Kim. Who's Been Sleeping in my Bed (Room): Researching a St. Louis County, Missouri Home. St. Louis, MO: Provenance Pub., 2009. R 728.0722 W868W

House style and design history

Bryan, John Albury. Missouri's Contribution to American Architecture: A History of the Architectural Achievements in This State From the Time of the Earliest Settlements Down to the Present Year. St. Louis: St. Louis Architectural Club, 1928. R 720 B915

Clark, Clifford Edward. The American Family Home, 1800–1960. Chapel Hill: U. of N.C., 1986. R 728.37 C592A

Gowans, Alan. Images of American Living: Four Centuries of Architecture and Furniture as Cultural Expression. Philadelphia: Lippincott, 2012. R 720.973 G722I

Marshall, Howard W. Vernacular Architecture in Rural and Small Town Missouri: An Introduction. Columbia, Mo.: University Extension, University of Missouri-Columbia, 1994. R 728.09778 M368V

Millstein, Cydney. Houses of Missouri, 1870–1940. New York: Acanthus Press, 2008. R 728.0977 M657H

Phillips, Steven J. Old-House Dictionary: An Illustrated Guide to American Domestic Architecture, 1600–1940. Lakewood, Co.: American Source Books, 1989. R 728.0973 P563O

Skrdla, Harry. Ghostly Ruins: America's Forgotten Architecture. New York: Princeton Architectural Press, 2006. R 779.092 S629G

Thornton, Rosemary Fuller. The Houses That Sears Built: Everything you Ever Wanted to Know About Sears Catalog Homes. Alton, Ill.: Gentle Beam Publications, 2002. R 728.37 T514H

Thornton, Rosemary Fuller. Finding the Homes That

Sears Built. Alton, Ill.: Gentle Beam Publications, 2004. R 728.37 T514F

Wolicki, Dale Patrick. Montgomery Ward's Mail-Order Homes: A History and Field Guide to Wardway Homes. Norfolk, Va.: Gentle Beam Publications, 2010. R 728.37 W861M

German Architecture

Van Ravenswaay, Charles. The Arts and Architecture of German Settlements in Missouri: A Survey of a Vanishing Culture. Columbia, Mo.: University of Missouri Press, 1977. R 709.788 V274A

French Architecture

Katz, Ron. French America: French America From Colonialization to the Birth of a Nation. New York, N.Y.: French Heritage Society, 2004. R 720.973 K19F

Homes in other states

Falk, Cynthia G. Architecture and Artifacts of the Pennsylvania Germans: Constructing Identity in Early America. University Park, Pa.: Pennsylvania State University Press, 2008. R 974.8 F191A

Homes of Westmoreland, Westmoreland, New Hampshire. Westmoreland, N.H.: The House History Committee of the Westmoreland Historical Society, 2007. R 974.29 H767

Kempe, Helen Kerr. The Pelican Guide to Old Homes of Mississippi. Gretna: Pelican Pub. Co., 1989–1998. R 976.2 K32P

Wethersfield: A Tour of Houses and History. Wethersfield, Conn.: Wethersfield Historical Society, 1980. R 974.66 W539

Shelf life

BOOK | Finding a Place Called Home

FINDING A PLACE CALLED HOME
A GUIDE TO AFRICAN-AMERICAN GENEALOGY AND HISTORICAL IDENTITY
DEE PARMER WOODTOR, Ph.D.

Few areas of genealogical research can feel as challenging as tracing back African-American ancestors. How does one begin to find evidence about individuals whose humanity, names, and family relationships were denied in official records? What about when your own family strived to forget its past following the end of slavery? Fortunately, the late Dee Parmer Woodtor wrote Finding a Place Called Home: A Guide to African-American Genealogy and Historical Identity (R 929.1 W898F and circulating copy) to guide researchers through the difficulties these questions imply.

On the surface, it could be mistaken for just another research guide, but Woodtor's thoughtful, realistic, and comprehensive writing sets Finding a Place Called Home apart from the average guide to genealogy. Woodtor has seemingly thought of everything: she describes problems and solves them; she identifies record types and explains how to use them. Along the way she provides information about countless other relevant topics, such as the system of sharecropping, surname changes, and the types of slave owners. In the process, she explains what all of this means for people trying to learn about their family's place in history. Due to Woodtor's diligence, her book remains the definitive guide to African-American genealogy more than a decade since its original publication.

Yet there is still more to be found in Finding a Place Called Home than a thorough guide to niche genealogical topics. Woodtor offers her own experiences and anecdotes and shares different ways of thinking about the uncomfortable history of African Americans, reading like a good friend or a genealogical counselor. At the forefront, she dispels myths that have kept people from learning about their families and encourages researchers to look and think about ancestors' lives, relationships, and contributions to America beyond the fact of slavery.

SAMPLINGS FROM THE PRINT COLLECTION

JOURNAL | NEGS Register

The New England Historic Genealogical Society was founded in 1857 by five men from Boston: Charles Ewer, Lemuel Shattuck, Samuel Gardner Drake, John Wingate Thornton, and William Henry Montague. By then, genealogical research had moved beyond the idea of trying to obtain social status in the British Empire and instead began to have a more patriotic focus based on pride in American ancestors. The first edition of the New England Historic Genealogical Society Register rolled off the presses in 1847 and has been published quarterly ever since. It is the oldest publication of its type in the United States.

Typically the Register publishes well-researched genealogies, primarily from New England but also their European roots (typically the British Isles). Usually the article will attempt to solve a genealogical problem. Even if a researcher is unable to find an article specifically about his or her family, by reading the periodical regularly, he or she may discover new sources to check or approaches to take. The final pages of the Register include reviews of current genealogical books thought to be of interest to the members.

Researchers can find articles of interest by searching PERSI (Periodical Source Index). Browsing the pages is another option, because St. Louis County Library has print copies of all the back issues of the Register. A subscription to the quarterly is included with a New England Historical and Genealogical Society membership.

SELECTED NEW TITLES

Rebels on the Border:
Civil War, Emancipation, and the Reconstruction of Kentucky and Missouri

By Aaron Astor
Louisiana State University, 2012
R 973.8 A858R

Rebels on the Border offers a remarkably compelling and significant study of the Civil War South's highly contested and bloodiest border states: Kentucky and Missouri. By far the most complex examination to date, the book sharply focuses on the "borderland" between the free North and the Confederate South. As a result, Rebels on the Border deepens and enhances understanding of the sectional conflict, the Civil War, and Reconstruction.

After slaves in central Kentucky and Missouri gained their emancipation, author Aaron Astor contends, they transformed informal kin and social networks of resistance against slavery into more formalized processes of electoral participation and institution building. At the same time, white politics in Kentucky's Bluegrass and Missouri's Little Dixie underwent an electoral realignment in response to the racial and social revolution caused by the war and its aftermath. Black citizenship and voting rights provoked a violent white reaction and a cultural reinterpretation of white regional identity. After the war, the majority of wartime Unionists in the Bluegrass and Little Dixie joined former Confederate guerrillas in the Democratic Party in an effort to stifle the political ambitions of former slaves.

Rebels on the Border is not simply a story of bitter political struggles, partisan guerrilla warfare, and racial violence. Like no other scholarly account of Kentucky and Missouri during the Civil War, it places these two crucial heartland states within the broad context of local, southern, and national politics.—Publisher

Abandoning America:
Life-stories from Early New England

By Susan Hardman Moore
Boydell, 2013
974 H264A

Abandoning America brings together the biographies of hundreds of people who crossed over to New England in the 1630s but later braved the Atlantic again to return home. Some went back quickly, disenchanted or discouraged. Many invested everything to make New England a success, yet after ten or twenty years resolved to leave America - against a backdrop of civil war and Cromwell's commonwealth in England, and personal dilemmas about family ties, health and prospects. The book retrieves their forgotten life-stories from thousands of scattered fragments of evidence in early New England records and British archives, often starting from some incidental, passing, reference. The result of this scholarly detective work is a remarkable and evocative collection of personal histories, of people overlooked in the onward march of American history. Their anxieties and aspirations speak eloquently about the experience of being a New Englander, for those who stayed on as well as for those who left.

View this month's list of new books online

A list of new books received during the previous month is posted on the library's website. View the list online <<http://tinyurl.com/ktha6fr>>. For more information about viewing the new book list online, exporting records, and saving items to a customized list, call (314) 994-3300 or ask a librarian when visiting any St. Louis County Library branch.

The book traces settlers' lives with an eye to the information historians look for. It is a rich original resource for scholars of early America and the English Revolution - for research on religion in England and New England, Atlantic migration, and much more.—Publisher

Moroni and the Swastika: Mormons in Nazi Germany

By David Conley Nelson
University of Oklahoma, 2015
R 289.343 N425M

While Adolf Hitler's National Socialist government was persecuting Jews and Jehovah's Witnesses and driving forty-two small German religious sects underground, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints continued to practice unhindered. How some fourteen thousand Mormons not only survived but thrived in Nazi Germany is a story little known, rarely told, and occasionally re-written within the confines of the Church's history—for good reason, as we see in David Conley Nelson's Moroni and the Swastika. A page-turning historical narrative, this book is the first full account of how Mormons avoided Nazi persecution through skilled collaboration with Hitler's regime, and then eschewed postwar shame by constructing an alternative history of wartime suffering and resistance.

Recovering this inconvenient past, Moroni and the Swastika restores a complex and difficult chapter to the history of Nazi Germany and the Mormon Church in the twentieth century—and offers new insight into the construction of historical truth.—Publisher

New British genealogy titles

- County Durham Hearth Tax Assessment, Lady Day 1666*, edited by Elizabeth Parkinson. The British Record Society, 2006. R 942.86 C855
- Essex Hearth Tax Return, Michaelmas 1670*, edited by Catherine Ferguson, Christopher Thornton, and Andrew Wareham. The British Record Society, 2012. R 942.67 E78
- London and Middlesex 1666 Hearth Tax*, edited by Matthew Davies, et. al. The British Record Society, 2014. R 942.1 L847

Other new titles

- A Great and Noble Scheme: The Tragic Story of the Expulsion of the French Acadians From Their American Homeland* by John Mack Faragher. W.W. Norton, 2005. R 971.6 F219G
- German Immigrants in American Church Records*, Vol. 19: Missouri (Excluding St. Louis County). Family Roots Publishing, 2016. R 929.3089 G373
- The History of Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri* by Paul W. Bass. Acclaim Press, 2016. R 977.857 B317H
- The Making of Urban America*, Raymond A. Mohl and Roger Biles, eds. Rowman & Littlefield, 2012. R 307.76 M235
- How the Post Office Created America: A History* by Winifred Gallagher. Penguin, 2016. R 383.4973 G162H
- The Polish American Encyclopedia*. McFarland, 2011. R 973.04918 P768

PastPorts is published by History & Genealogy at St. Louis County Library, located on Tier 5 of the library headquarters.

Current and past issues can be downloaded from the web <http://www.slcl.org/pastports>.

Contact us:

History & Genealogy
St. Louis County Library
1640 S. Lindbergh Blvd
St. Louis, MO 63131

Phone: 314-994-3300, ext. 2070
Email: genealogy@slcl.org
Website: <http://www.slcl.org>

Tours

Tours are conducted on Wednesdays and Saturdays at 10:30 a.m. Group tours of 10 or more are gladly arranged with advance notice by calling 314-994-3300, ext. 2070.

LIBRARY HOLIDAY CLOSING

Memorial Day | Monday, May 29

CLASSES

Classes are free and open to the public. Registration is required. Call 314-994-3300 or register online at www.slcl.org/events.

Beginning a Genealogical Research Project

Learn about the genealogical research process, how to get started, how to organize and cite your findings, useful library skills, various formats used in research, and the rich sources available in History & Genealogy at St. Louis County Library.

- May 6, 10:00 a.m., Indian Trails | Register
- June 5, 10:00 a.m., Weber Road | Register
- June 6, 2:00 p.m., Headquarters | Register
- June 12, 2:00 p.m., Lewis & Clark | Register
- June 19, 10:00 a.m., Grant's View | Register
- June 24, 10:00 a.m., Natural Bridge | Register
- June 26, 2:00 p.m., Indian Trails | Register

Census Basics for Genealogical Research

Genealogical research in the United States begins with the Federal Census. Learn how to search within the Ancestry Library Edition and HeritageQuest databases for federal and state census records. A History & Genealogy expert will explore key strategies on how to conduct effective census research.

- May 6, 2:00 p.m., Prairie Commons | Register
- June 15, 2:00 p.m., Headquarters | Register
- June 24, 2:00 p.m., Rock Road | Register

Introduction to Fold3 and HeritageQuest Databases

Fold3 and HeritageQuest electronic databases offer a variety of records for genealogical research, and they can be used at home for free with a valid St. Louis County Library card. Find out how to search for your ancestors in census records, city directories, books, periodicals and government documents. To take this class, you should already know how to use a computer and search the Internet.

- May 3, 2:00 p.m., Headquarters | Register

Finding Immigrant Ancestors

Explore naturalization and Immigration records in the Ancestry Library Edition and Find My Past databases and discover the numerous print and online resources available for immigrant research. To take this class, you should already know how to use a computer and search the internet.

- June 21, 2:00 p.m. Headquarters | Register

Identifying Ancestral Military Veterans

Explore strategies for conducting military research in the Fold3 and Ancestry Library Edition databases and in print and online resources. To take this class, you should already know how to use a computer and search the internet.

- June 29, 2:00 p.m., Headquarters | Register

Finding History and Genealogy in Newspaper Databases

Newspaper databases make it easy to access millions of articles electronically, and they can be used at home with a valid St. Louis County Library card. Databases covered in this class will include 19th-Century U. S. Newspapers, NewspaperArchive, and current and historical St. Louis Post-Dispatch databases. To take this class, you should already know how to use a computer and search the Internet.

- May 8, 10:00 a.m., Oak Bend | Register
- May 15, 2:00 p.m., Prairie Commons | Register
- May 22, 10:00 a.m., Cliff Cave | Register
- May 24, 2:00 p.m., Headquarters | Register

■ Huguenots: 16th and 17th-Century Religious Refugees

French Protestants, known as the Huguenots, were granted limited religious freedoms by the Edict of Nantes in 1598. The edict was revoked in 1685, forcing them to either convert or flee the country. Many were received by Protestant rulers in Europe, but some immigrated to America. The speaker will discuss the plight of the Huguenots, where they settled, and genealogical sources for finding Huguenot ancestors.

- May 17, 7:00 p.m., Grant's View
- No registration required

PROGRAMS

Programs are free and open to the public. No registration is required. Programs listed here take place in the Headquarters Auditorium.

Probate Records: A Genealogist's Tool that Should Not Be Overlooked

Saturday, June 10 | 10:00 a.m.

St. Louis Genealogical Society General Membership Meeting

Were your ancestors at the top of the social ladder or near the bottom rung? No matter their circumstance, anyone may have a probate file. | LaDonna Garner, Speaker

Distinguish Same Name Germans

Wednesday, June 14 | 7:00 p.m.

StLGS German Special Interest Group

Be certain you've identified the correct ancestor. Learn techniques and which clues to follow to distinguish two or more persons of the same name either in U.S. or German records. | Carol Whitton, Speaker

Railroads of St. Louis

Saturday, July 8 | 10:00 a.m.

St. Louis Genealogical Society General Membership Meeting

A narrative overview of the railroads in St. Louis from 1851 to present day. | Nick Fry, Curator, John W. Barriger III National Railroad Library, Speaker

Using Sources Abroad to Identify Your Ancestor's County of Origin

Tuesday, July 18 | 7:00 p.m.

StLGS Irish Special Interest Group

Did Grandpa forget to mention exactly where in Ireland he came from? Have you exhausted all the U.S. resources that you can think of, and still no clue? Come join us as we discuss the best strategies for locating the county of origin for your ancestors in foreign sources. | Mike Bridwell, St. Louis County Library History & Ge-

Genealogy programs at Cliff Cave

Programs are free and open to the public. No registration is required except as noted.

May 15, 6:30 p.m.

Genealogy: Beer Barons

Due to a heavy influx of German immigrants, brewing beer has been part of the St. Louis scene since the mid-1800's. Over 60 beer barons are buried at Bellefontaine Cemetery. Learn about some of the more provocative barons including Busch, Anheuser, and Lemp.

June 19, 6:30 p.m.

My Dear Molly: The Civil War Letters of Captain James Love

Upon the outbreak of the Civil War, James E. Love enlisted as a sergeant in the United States Reserve Corps, and left St. Louis with his fellow Union soldiers on June 15, 1861. The following day, James sent the first of many letters home to Eliza Mary "Molly" Wilson, the beloved fiancée he left behind. A prolific writer, James continued to write to her, 160 letters in all, for the duration of his Civil War service. These letters are now part of the archives at the Missouri History Museum in St. Louis, and the Museum published the letters as a book, My Dear Molly: The Civil War Letters of Captain James Love. Molly Kodner, editor of the book and archivist at the Missouri History Museum, will read excerpts from James's letters regarding his Civil War service and the great love story of James and Molly, which also evolves throughout the letters. | Registration requested

BRANCH LOCATIONS

Cliff Cave

5430 Telegraph Road
St. Louis, MO 63129

Grant's View

9700 Musick Rd.
St. Louis, MO 63123

Headquarters

1640 S. Lindbergh Blvd.
St. Louis, MO 63131

Indian Trails

8400 Delport Dr.
St. Louis, MO 63114

Lewis & Clark

9909 Lewis-Clark Blvd.
St. Louis, MO 63136

Mid-County

7821 Maryland Ave.
St. Louis, MO 63105

Natural Bridge

7606 Natural Bridge Rd.
St. Louis, MO 63121

Oak Bend

842 S. Holmes Ave.
St. Louis, MO 63122

Prairie Commons

915 Utz Lane
Hazelwood, MO 63042

Rock Road

10267 St. Charles Rock Rd.
St. Ann, MO 63074

Samuel C. Sachs

16400 Burkhardt Place
Chesterfield, MO 63017

Thornhill

12863 willowycck Dr.
St. Louis, MO 63146

Weber Road

4444 Weber Rd.
St. Louis, MO 63123

General information

Phone: 314-994-3300,
ext. 2070

Email: genealogy@slcl.org

Website: www.slcl.org/genealogy

Visit History & Genealogy at these upcoming conferences

National Genealogical Society

May 10–13
Raleigh, North Carolina
Booth 209

Missouri State Genealogical Association

August 4–5
Columbia, Missouri

Federation of Genealogical Societies

Aug. 30–Sept. 2
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
Booth 632